The author attempts to show by facts and figures that social customs have very little effect on the health of a people and that the real causes of the high Indian death-rate and infant mortality are not the social customs or the indigenous obstetric methods, but are to be found in the "Crushing poverty" of the Indian people, "their meagre and poor dietary leading to chronic malnutrition verging on starvation," the "horrors of recurrent floods and famine" and the ravages of malaria (attributed to railways). The writer goes on to show that it is the Indian social customs including the purdah and early marriage that have actually gone a great way to preserve the race under the economic conditions that would have proved fatal to any race not similarly endowed.] Pages 17. DARJEELING, THE 13TH SEPTEMBER 1930.

RESOLUTION No. 1030T.R.

READ—

Letter No. 1424 R. XIV-2, dated the 5th July 1930, from the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, submitting a final report on the relief operations in the Brahmanbaria subdivision of the district of Tippera during the years 1929 and 1930.

The report deals with the operations for the relief of distress which prevailed in the Brahmanbaria subdivision of the Tippera district during a period of seven months from October 1929 to April 1930. There was also some distress in local areas of the Sadar subdivision of the district but it was of short duration and promptly relieved. The total area of the Brahmanbaria subdivision is 769 square miles; out of this area, 306 square miles with a population of 2,50,000 were affected.

2. The abnormal rainfall in the upper reaches of the Surma Valley and in the neighbouring hills in May and June 1929 caused an abnormal rise in the water level, submerged the low lying tracts in the subdivision and resulted in serious destruction of crops. The extent of the damage caused to the principal crops in the affected area is estimated to have been from 50 to 75 per cent. The distress mainly affected cultivators, landless labourers, beggars and indigent widows.

3. The duration and extent of distress were not however such as to necessitate, at any stage of the operations, the declaration of scarcity or famine under section 74 of the Bengal Famine Code, 1913. In fact, there was no real shortage of food grains. The distress was the result of the poverty to which the cultivating classes were reduced owing to the destruction of their crops by floods and also to the low price of jute. As thrift is seldom practised, the cultivators had no reserves to fall back upon.

4. Relief measures were promptly undertaken by Government. The main forms of relief consisted of :—

(a) Gratuitous relief,

(b) Test relief works,

(c) Agricultural loans.

Gratuitous relief.—Gratuitous relief was given, chiefly in the shape of cash and rice doles to deserving persons, while able bodied males and females were employed on industrial cane work, paddy husking and jute spinning. It was also necessary to distribute some cloth. The amount spent on gratuitous relief was Rs. 13,517.

Test relief.—Test relief works consisted of the construction of roads and the excavation of khals. Altogether 34 projects were sanctioned. They were selected in such a way as to prove useful to the locality and at the same time be easily accessible to persons in the affected tracts. The operations were carried out through the agency of the District Board and lasted from October 1929 to April 1930. A total sum of Rs. 22,127 was spent for the purpose of which Rs. 20,000 was advanced by Government, the balance being met from the funds of the District Board. Altogether, 45,971 persons were employed on test relief operations. The average daily outturn of each man was 77 cubic feet of earth work. The average daily earnings of each man amounted to 3 annas 9 pies at the rate of Rs. 3-2-0 per 1,000 cubic feet of work.

Agricultural loans.—Loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act amounting to Rs. 2,50,000 were advanced by Government to 23,009 persons.

Loans to the amount of Rs. 4,38,933 were also advanced by the rural co-operative societies, financed by the Brahmanbaria Co-operative Central Bank and the Nabinagar Co-operative Central Bank. The Zamindar of the Sarail Estate also advanced Rs. 64,354 for distribution as loans to cultivators (Rs. 25,000 through the Brahmanbaria Central Co-operative Bank and Rs. 39,354 direct to his tenants through his local officers).

5. The Divisional Commissioner, Khan Bahadur M. A. Mumin, visited the affected area twice and the District Magistrate Mr. F. W. Robertson, I.C.S., visited the area three times during the period of distress. During their visits they thoroughly studied the condition of the people and of the crops and discussed with leading men the measures necessary for relief. The Governor in Council is satisfied that the measures taken for the relief of distress were successful and adequate. The success of the operations was due, in large measure, to the Subdivisional Officer Babu Hari Charan Bose, and the Governor in Council endorses the Commissioner's appreciation of his good work. His Excellency in Council notices with pleasure the valuable assistance rendered by Union Boards and also by non-official agencies and associations and by many non-official gentlemen to whom his thanks are also due. In particular, the thanks of Government are due to Babu Kamalaranjan Ray, Zamindar of Sarail, for his ungrudging and effective co-operation with Government in relief measures.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. J. TWYNAM,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 14th November 1930.

Monthly Weather and Crop Report of Bengal for October 1930.

I. Character of the season.—During the month under review, the rainfall was in excess of the normal in two districts only, while in the rest of the presidency it was below the average. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Harvesting of autumn crops was finished. Preparatory tillage for and sowings of early spring crops continued under favourable conditions.

III. State of standing crops.—The state of standing crops was generally fair, but more rain was needed in places for their growth and development.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of standing crops were satisfactory on the whole. The outturn of sugarcane was estimated at 87 per cent. of the normal.

V. Damage to standing crops.—No injury to standing crops was reported from any part of the province except some damage by flood to rabi crops and to winter paddy in parts of Malda and Bogra respectively.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—Condition of live-stock was generally fair. Stray cases of cattle-disease were, however, reported from three districts.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Excepting in parts of Nadia no insufficiency of fodder was reported from any part of the province.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month, the price of common rice of the cheapest quality rose in two districts, fell in nine and remained stationary in the rest of the province. The price ranged from 6 seers per rupee at Mymensingh to 10 seers per rupee at Murshidabad, Bankura and Hooghly.

IX. Condition of agricultural population.—The condition of agricultural population is less satisfactory owing to the fall in price of jute and other staples. Distress was reported from parts of Bogra and Malda.

ADDENDA AND CORRIGENDA.

No. 4497F. — 22nd November 1930.—The following corrections, which have been authorised, are published for general information:—

Fundamental and Subsidiary Rules, 1st edition (Reprint), 1929.

Page 142—F. R. 81 (2).—Substitute the following for the Government of India's ruling as amended by the correction slip No. 33, dated the 2nd July 1929, under this rule:—

Leave not due is intended to be regarded as an advance of leave and that its grant should therefore be limited to the amount that both (a) can be and (b) will be earned by subsequent duty; further, that it is meant to be granted only in exceptional circumstances, such as illness or urgent private affairs; and finally, that when the exceptional step of granting such leave is taken, it should be irrevocable, except at the request of the officer, who should not be penalised if reasonable anticipations fail to materialise. The Governor-General in Council has accordingly ruled—

(1) that leave not due may, in no case, be granted unless the sanctioning authority is satisfied that as far as can be reasonably foreseen, the officer will return to duty and earn it, and

(2) that the leave when granted should in all cases (subject to the officer's wishes) be allowed to stand, including cases in which the officer fails to earn it by subsequent duty.

The first item of the above ruling does not apply in the case of leave not due to which an officer may be eligible under note 2 (ii) to Fundamental Rule 78.

Annual Administration Report of the Department of Industries, Bengal, for the year 1929-30.

The only noticeable administrative change which took place during the year under report was that owing to the retirement of Mr. Hoogewerf and delay in the selection of a successor, Mr. Nathani, Assistant Inspector and Weaving Expert, acted as Principal of the Government Weaving Institute, Serampore, throughout the year. In the absence of Mr. Nathani from headquarters, the work of inspection and supervision of the district and peripatetic weaving schools, the control of which was transferred from Serampore to the Directorate at Calcutta, wholly devolved on the Inspector of Technical and Industrial Institutions. The post of Principal, however, was filled up after the close of the year by a candidate recommended by the Selection Board.

The possibilities of industrial development of the province in its existing conditions were set forth in the resolution on last year's report. The introduction of electric power in the establishment of small as well as large scale industries is an important phase of development, and while agreeing generally with the observations made by the Director in the report Government (Ministry of Industries) do not consider that in present economic condition any progress can be made in this direction in the near future.

Industrial Chemist's Department.—It is noteworthy that the department has taken up an investigation into the possibilities of manufacturing soap from oil-bearing seeds grown in the province. Government have provided funds in the current year's budget for the purchase of plant and its installation at the Industrial Research Laboratory for certain experiments on this subject.

It is gratifying to note that the department has provided facilities for the training of young men in the manufacture of bar and moulded soap on cottage industries lines. It is interesting to find that most of the young men trained have either established soap factories of their own or are associated with the industry in some shape or other.

It is satisfactory that the department was able to provide for the training of two apprentices at the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Ltd., in the distillation of coal-tar and the manufacture of antiseptic dressings.

Industrial Engineer's Department.—The activities of this section of the department are marked with keenness and energy. In the absence of adequate facilities at the Industrial Research Laboratory the Industrial Engineer had hitherto been handicapped in carrying out his experiments. This want, however, has since been removed by providing him with a separate workshop, and it is hoped that it will now be possible for the Engineer to make a further advance. Government have already recognised that if full advantage is to be taken of the Engineer's services he should be assisted by two Industrial Surveyors in carrying out investigations into the conditions and possibilities of industries which await development. Owing, however, to the present financial condition it has not yet been possible to provide him with such assistance. As a result of investigations carried out at the laboratory the Industrial Engineer has been successful in evolving an effective potters' wheel as a step towards the improvement of the village pottery industry. The other useful schemes in this section referred to in the report which are under investigation are expected to yield good results in due time. The results of demonstrations and experiments carried out in this department during the year under review are very encouraging.

Bengal Tanning Institute.—The Bengal Tanning Institute maintained its record of good work in all its branches—research, instruction, demonstration and propaganda. It is now admitted that the tanning industry in the province has made striking progress in the course of the last few years, and there are reasons to believe that the institute has had a not inconsiderable share in achieving this result. As stated in the report, several investigations were carried out on the processes of manufacturing such varieties of leather as are of interest to the local tanning industry, with the object of bringing local products up to the Western standard which, in the words of the Director, "the tanners of this country have to emulate and eventually reach to stand in competition." The object of the training imparted to the apprentices at the institute is to offer a career to them in their after-life. With this end in view the practical aspect of the training was fully maintained.

Although owing to financial stringency it has not yet been possible to give effect to the scheme for the institution of a regular course of theoretical training at the institute it is satisfactory that arrangements were made for a regular course of lectures on the principles and methods of tanning, on the analytical chemistry of leather manufacture and on elementary organic and inorganic chemistry to supplement the practical training now imparted at the institute. The demonstration and propaganda work in this section have had good results, and it is gratifying to record that several men have taken up the industry as a profession and one has started a small factory. The outstanding achievement of the year is the establishment of classes attached to the institute for imparting instructions in boot and shoe making for which no facilities were available hitherto. The scheme has been sanctioned for a period of three years as an experimental measure, and, if the experiment proves a success, there is every possibility of the classes being continued on a permanent basis.

Technical Education including Weaving Education.—The progress of technical education in all its branches during the year under review has been marked. Steps were taken in collaboration with the local bodies to start a Junior Technical School at Hooghly on a grant-in-aid basis. Another noticeable development in this direction during the year was the establishment of a Senior Technical School at Hirapur in the Asansol subdivision of Burdwan district in collaboration with the Indian Iron and Steel Works, Indian Standard Wagon Works and other local engineering firms. The Kanchrapara Technical School and the Calcutta Technical School maintained their record of usefulness. With the appointment of a permanent headmaster and the workshop instructor the staff of the Kanchrapara Technical School is now complete. The Calcutta Technical School has entered on the fifth year of its existence. It is disappointing to observe that the Calcutta Corporation has not yet made its promised grant to the school, and as it is wrong in principle that Government should continue to bear the major portion of the expenditure, the whole question of future grants to the institution is now receiving the serious consideration of Government. Pending a decision on the general question it has been arranged since the close of the year that the whole-time lecturers should be replaced by part-time lecturers as a measure of economy.

In regard to mining education, the Indian Mining Federation and the Indian Mining Association hitherto made contributions towards the cost of maintaining the mining classes in the coal-fields of Bengal. Notwithstanding the fact that the industry is directly benefited by these classes, these bodies decided to discontinue their respective grants, and as a result of that decision it has been necessary to limit the expenditure to the amount hitherto spent by Government. As a consequence a new mining lecturer on a reduced scale of pay has been appointed.

In the matter of weaving education, the Central Institute at Serampore with the outlying district and peripatetic weaving schools continued to function as usual. Amongst the activities of the institute mention may be made of the assistance given to the public in respect of the weaving industry referred to in paragraph 50 of the report. In order to bring the institute into touch with the cotton and jute industries of the province, a representative committee of management has been constituted, and it is hoped that under the guidance of the committee it will be possible for the institute to make greater progress in the development of weaving education in future. Government note with pleasure that as a result of departmental activities it has been possible to start a sale depot under the aegis of the Malda District Weaving School for the benefit of the ex-students who have formed themselves into a co-operative society. The ex-students of the Bankura Weaving School have similarly combined themselves into co-operative societies for their mutual benefit. This is a hopeful line of development which might well be followed by other schools.

Since the close of the year the Board of Control for Apprenticeship Training has been reconstituted under the designation of Board of Apprenticeship Training.

Acknowledgments. — Government (Ministry of Industries) take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation of the efficient manner in which the work of the department has generally been conducted by Mr. Weston and his staff. Government are also grateful to the members of the Advisory Board of Industries and other boards and committees attached to the department for their assistance.

Appendix B.

Rules for working detritus tanks, septic tanks, activated sludge plants, upward flow tanks and sludge digestion tanks in Bengal.

1. Detritus tanks.—The object of such tanks is to remove grit and sand from the sewage before it is admitted to the septic or upward flow tanks. Each detritus tank must therefore be emptied and cleaned at frequent intervals.

In cleaning these tanks the supernatent liquid is to be decanted off and pumped into the channel connecting the detritus tanks with the septic tanks or the aerating tanks (activated sludge process), where this has been arranged for. The detritus and sludge from the detritus tanks are to be discharged to the sludge beds or sludge digestion tanks.

2. Septic tanks.—The object of the treatment of sewage in a septic tank is the liquifaction of the solid matter and the clarification of the liquid by bacteria which flourish in sewage when air is excluded, as is done by the scum on the surface of the liquid in a septic tank.

During the liquifaction process a certain proportion of the solid matter settles to the bottom of the tank in the form of sludge. As the sludge putrefies, gas is evolved which causes the sludge to rise and mix with the liquid thereby making the effluent black. The blackening of the effluent is a sign that the septic tank requires cleaning, and the period between cleanings varies with the temperature, gassing being greatest in the hot weather and least in the cold weather.

As most of the solid matter is trapped in the first half of a septic tank, the greatest quantity of sludge is formed there, and consequently the first half requires more frequent cleaning than the second half. The change of colour in the effluent must therefore be watched for, and the tank should be emptied and the sludge removed as soon as the change in colour of the effluent becomes apparent.

In cleaning, the supernatent liquid is to be drawn off by the outlet valves provided at different levels. This liquid is to be pumped back into the inlet channel feeding the septic tanks and passed through the second septic tank. The sludge is to be washed out and pumped to the sludge disposal tanks.

Only one septic tank may be cleaned at a time, and the period between cleaning the various septic tanks should be at least seven days otherwise a bad effluent will be obtained.

3. Upward flow tanks.—Tanks of this type are chiefly used for sedimentation, sludge from this type of tank is to be removed twice daily by opening the sludge valve and discharging the sludge under hydrostatic pressure. This process takes 10-15 minutes and may be considered as complete as soon as the discharge is seen to consist of liquid only. The sludge discharged is either pumped or run by gravity to the sludge disposal tanks.

Unless upward flow tanks are cleaned of sludge regularly the conical bottom will become filled with sludge which can only be removed at considerable expense by pumping out the whole of the liquid and removing the sludge by hand.

4. Sludge digestion tanks.—The function of these tanks is to remove as much as possible of the water in the sludge and to convert the putrescible solid matter into an innocuous substance which can either be disposed of as manure to cultivators or used to raise low lying land.

To effect these changes the sludge is discharged into kutcha tanks made by enclosing a piece of land by an earthen bund. The outlet for the liquid consists of a masonry chamber the top of which is surrounded by a scum board which permits the discharge of water and holds back the floating solid matter. It is essential that the opening round the inside of the scum board should be kept free, and any clogging must be removed periodically. As the contents of the tank solidify the top of the outlet chamber should be raised by brickwork from time to time until the whole of the tank becomes filled with solid digested sludge, after which it may be dug out and sold or a new tank made and the top of the old one covered with earth and planted with crops.

5. The irrigation area.—Where there is no means of purifying the septic tank effluent other than land filtration, digestion in tanks, etc. (as at Dacca), the care of the irrigation area and tanks is a matter of great importance. The growing of crops for profit is of secondary consideration, and therefore it is not permissible for municipalities to lease out such irrigation areas to cultivators.

All irrigation areas are to be regularly cultivated for the purpose of thoroughly oxidising the solid matter deposited on the surface of the soil, thus increasing the capacity of the soil to absorb effluent. This cultivation also keeps down weeds which otherwise quickly get out of hand.

No effluent is to be discharged into any waterway which flows through populous areas unless it is diluted to such an extent as to be harmless.

During the periods at the commencement and the end of the monsoon when the irrigation area is too wet to irrigate, and the flow in the adjoining waterways and drainage channels is too small to permit of adequate dilution, the effluent must be passed through a number of tanks so that digestion and dilution can take place before the effluent is discharged into any drainage channel or other waterway.

During the height of the monsoon all sluices on the disposal tanks are to be opened so as to thoroughly wash out these tanks and to fill them with fresh flood water, where this is possible. This is a matter of great importance, as unless the contents of these tanks are replaced with fresh water from time to time, they will putrefy and cause considerable nuisance to the surrounding locality.

6. Cleaning of sewers.—The whole of the sewers in the town should be divided into sections and a regular programme is to be drawn up whereby each section is examined and if necessary cleaned, at frequent intervals.

It will be found that the small branch sewers from dumping depots tend to choke up due to insufficient water being used during dumping operations. The cleaning programme must therefore be drawn up in such a manner as to provide for more frequent inspection and attention to such branch sewers, thus obviating the inconvenience, nuisance and expense of cleaning sewers which have become totally blocked.

All syphons require periodic inspection and attention and if regularly flushed out, particularly at the commencement of the monsoon when large quantities of mineral matter are discharged into the sewers through the gulley pit separators, it will be a comparatively simple matter to maintain them in thorough working order.

The manholes into which house connections discharge should be examined during the monsoon, to ascertain whether such connections have been satisfactorily built in. Any leakage of subsoil water round such pipes should be noted and the house-holder compelled to make good the leakage during the following dry weather. No house connections should be granted between the months of May and November of each year owing to the difficulty of making watertight connections to the sewers during this period, when the subsoil water level is high.

No. 3086P.H.—27th November 1930.—It is hereby notified for general information that Bassein is declared free from Cholera, and that the regulations for the prevention of the introduction of cholera by sea, which were imposed in the ports of Calcutta and Chittagong against vessels arriving from Bessein, are hereby withdrawn.

24-Parganas.—No. 3140P.H.—27th November 1930.—Babu Arun Kumar Banerji, B.E., Assistant Engineer, Public Health Department, Bengal, has been placed in charge of the Bhatpara Sanitary Works Subdivision II, with effect from the 10th November 1930.

No. 3143P.H.—27th November 1930.—The following draft of a notification, which the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Public Health) intend to issue in exercise of the powers conferred by clauses (i) and (ii) of sub-section (1) of section 69 and clause (ii) of section 69B of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), in the rules published under notification No. 1806M., dated the 16th October 1917, is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th January 1931, and any objection or suggestion with regard thereto which may be received by the undersigned through the District Magistrate before that date will be duly considered.

Draft notification.

In exercise of the powers conferred by clauses (i) and (ii) of sub-section (1) of section 69 and by clause (ii) of section 69B of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Public Health) are pleased to make the following amendments in the rules published under notification No. 1806M., dated the 16th October 1917, as subsequently amended, viz.—

For the note to rule 26 substitute the following:—

NOTE 1.—In calculating the fees the cost of survey, land acquisition and supervision shall be excluded from the estimated cost.

NOTE 2.—These fees are to be included in the estimates and recovered by debit to the works as a first charge on the scheme.

NOTE 3.—The municipal authority will be liable to pay these fees in cash in accordance with the procedure prescribed in article 426 of the Audit Code, if it abandons the detailed scheme at any time or if it is unable to proceed with it within six months of final sanction to the taking up of the work after budget provision has been made for the purpose or such longer period as Government may be pleased to allow.

The Deputy Commissioner, Port Police, Calcutta, for the census of other than sea-going vessels.

Calcutta.—No. 13968Jur.—27th November 1930.—In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1) of section 3 of the Indian Census Act (X of 1929), the Governor in Council is pleased to authorise the authorities named in notification No. 13967 Jur., dated the 27th November 1930, to issue the declaration in writing referred to therein in respect of all census officers appointed by them.

No. 13965Jur.—27th November 1930.—In exercise of the powers contained in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (2) of section 15 of the Indian Census Act, 1929 (X of 1929), conferred on the Local Government by the Governor General in Council under Government of India, Home Department, notification No. F. 45/1/30 Public, dated the 20th January 1930, the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rules for the census of ports:—

Census of ports.

1. Classification of vessels.—For the purposes of the census, vessels may be classed as:—

(a) Sea-going vessels plying between ports in British India, or Indian States and British or foreign ports out of India.

(b) Sea-going vessels plying between Indian coast ports, whether in British India, in Indian States or in French or Portuguese territory.

(c) Other vessels, such as (1) inland cargo and passenger steamers, (2) country boats carrying inland produce, (3) ferry steamers, passenger boats, etc., plying within the limits of a single port, (4) fishing boats, etc.

2. Census agency.—In all places where there is Port Officer or Conservator, that officer should superintend all arrangements as port census officer. For smaller ports and landing places the district officer should make the necessary arrangements. Full use should be made of any Customs, Salt or Marine officials available.

The census of the port of Calcutta will follow the general principles of the rules given in this appendix with such minor modifications as may be found necessary, and may be determined by the provincial superintendent.

3. Enumerators.—The limits of the port must be carefully defined with special reference to the rivers discharging into it. The foreshore and anchorage should then be divided into blocks, and an enumerator appointed to each block. If more convenient, one set of enumerators may be appointed for the census of vessels of the kind referred to in articles 4 to 12, and another set for the census of the vessels referred to in articles 13 to 16.

A register (Form I) must be prepared for all the vessels (and buildings, if any), in each block, other than small boats in which no one sleeps at night. This register must be kept, corrected up-to-date, until the census is over.

NOTE.—The limits of the port will not necessarily be the same as those ordinarily recognised. If a considerable number of boats are usually moored outside, but near those limits, the boundary lines should be drawn so as to include them. Great care must be taken to see that the boundary thus laid down is clearly understood by the census officers both of the port and of the area adjoining it.

4. Vessels plying between Indian and British or foreign ports.—Sea-going vessels arriving from, or leaving for, another port not in British India or an Indian State, should not be enumerated unless they are actually lying in the ports on the night of the 26th February. In that case, the procedure in articles 6 and 7 should be followed. Otherwise they will be dealt with under the procedure laid down in Appendix XVI.

NOTE.—Vessels arriving from, or leaving for, another port in British India or an Indian State, will be regarded as "plying between coast ports" irrespective of their port of origin or ultimate destination.

5. Vessels plying between coast ports.—In the case of sea-going vessels of this class, it is necessary to provide for the following contingencies:—

(1) vessels lying at anchor in a coast port on the night of the census;

(2) vessels having left for a coast port shortly before that night;

(3) vessels arriving from a coast port after that night; and

(4) the special case of coasting steamers touching at several ports during that night.

6. Procedure for census of sea-going vessels.—Master of vessel responsible for census.—The master of the vessel is, in all cases, responsible for the due enumeration of all on board on the night of the census. He should be furnished with the necessary schedules and instructions, and a notice in the annexed form (Form II) should be handed to him, requiring him to fill in the schedules for himself, his crew, and the passengers that are on board on the night of the 26th February.

For Europeans household schedules may be supplied but for them as for Indians an ordinary enumeration book in English, containing the requisite number of general schedules, should be used as far as possible.

7. Vessels remaining in port.—In the case of the vessels lying in the port and likely to remain there over the night of the 26th February the forms should be distributed at least three days beforehand or (in the case of subsequent arrival) as soon as they reach the port. On the morning of the 27th February the enumerator should visit the vessel and collect the returns, examining the entries to see that they are in accordance with the instructions, and mustering the persons on board, if he thinks it necessary to do so. He must, in all cases, check the entries for lascars and other natives of India. Where the master is illiterate and unable to fill up the schedules the enumerator should fill them up for him.

8. Vessels leaving port.—If a vessel is leaving a British or Indian State port after the 20th January for another coast port which it is not tolerably certain to reach before the census night, the port census officer should supply the master of the vessel with the necessary forms, and instruct him to fill them up on the night of the 26th February and deliver them duly certified to the Customs or other authority who may ask for them at the British or Indian State port first touched at after the 26th February. It should be ascertained what port this is likely to be and notice should be sent by post to the port census officer concerned.

9. Vessels arriving in port after the night of the census.—If a vessel arrives in a British or Indian State port from another coast port (including a port in French or Portuguese territory) between the 26th February and the 15th March, the enumerator of the port must (unless he knows that the vessel has previously touched at a port after the 26th February and that this demand has been made before) require from the master of the vessel either schedules duly filled in or an enumeration pass (see Article 11). If neither of these be forthcoming, the enumerator must muster the persons on board and with the aid of the master and others fill in the necessary forms.

10. Coasting steamers.—In the case of steamers running at short intervals between coast ports, arrangements should be made similar to those for the enumeration of persons on inland steamers (see Appendix XII). The census record for the steamer will include the ship's officers, crew, etc., and all passengers who are still on board at 7 p.m. on the 26th February. Passengers disembarking after 7 p.m. should be given a pass (Chapter I, Article 31) to prevent double enumeration; those coming on board after that hour will be enumerated unless they have already been enumerated on shore. The schedules will be handed over to the local enumerator at the first port reached after 6 a.m. on the 27th February.

11. Enumeration passes.—In order to prevent double enumeration every person, who receives schedules filled in for any vessels, should give the master an enumeration pass (Form III). The master should be instructed to keep this pass carefully until the 15th March.

12. Inland steamers.—The enumeration of inland cargo and passenger steamers will be carried out by the clerk on board under arrangements made by the provincial superintendent with the Managing Agents (see Appendix XII). The schedules so filled in for any steamers of this class which may be lying in port on the night of the census or reach it early next morning will be collected next morning by the enumerator of the block in which each such steamer is moored.

13. Other vessels—Fishing vessels.—In the case of fishing and other vessels that are likely to be absent from the port on the night of the census, the schedules for their crews should be filled in on their leaving port at any time between the 16th and the 26th February and an enumeration pass (see Article 11) given to the person in charge of the vessel. If it returns before the 26th February the pass should be taken back, the schedules destroyed, and the persons on board told that they will be enumerated on the 26th February or on the vessel again leaving port.

14. Cargo boats.—Boats laden with country produce, cargo brigs, etc., which leave the port after the 16th February, should be enumerated, and an enumeration pass (Form III) given to the person in charge, unless it is fairly certain that the destination will be reached before the 26th February. The person in charge should be warned to preserve the pass as a safeguard against double enumeration.

15. Procedure on night of the census.—On the census night, each enumerator will visit every vessel in his block, other than those of which the census will be effected by the master or clerk as provided in Articles 4 to 12 above, and enumerate all persons found passing the night there and not taking their meals from other places. He will give an enumeration pass (Form III) to the person in charge of each vessel. In order to reduce his work on the census night he should prepare, a day or two beforehand, a preliminary record of all persons who regularly pass the night on ferry and other steamers plying within the limits of the port, or who are living on other vessels moored within his block which are likely to remain there until after the census is taken.

16. Particular care must be taken to enumerate at their homes all persons taking their meals there, who are absent on vessels for the night only [vide Manual of Instructions to supervisors (Appendix III to the Code), Article 9(3) and Instructions to Enumerators (Appendix IV to the Code), Part II, Rule 7.]

17. Boats reaching port after census night.—Cargo brigs, etc., arriving at the port between the 26th February and 15th March should be enumerated, unless the person in charge can produce an enumeration pass, or otherwise satisfy the census officer that he and his crew have already been enumerated elsewhere.

NOTE.—In ports where there is much shipping it will be convenient to insert after column 1 two columns to show Number and Port of Registration of each vessel.

FORM II.—Form of notice to Masters of sea-going vessels (see Article 6).

To the Master of the.....

SIR,

You are hereby requested under section 4 of the Indian Census Act, a copy of which will be found below, to undertake the enumeration of all persons on board of your vessel.

2. The bearer of this letter is a census officer appointed under the Act. He will make over to you the schedules required for the enumeration of the officers, passengers and crew of your vessel.

3. The instructions regarding the entries to be made in the forms are printed on the back of the "Household Schedule" (if issued for Europeans) and on the cover of the enumeration book, in which the necessary particulars are to be entered for all persons aboard your vessel. The census officer will give you any further information or explanation which you may require.

4. If it can be avoided you should not allow any of your crew to go on shore at any port in British India between 7 p.m. on the 26th February and 6 a.m. on the 27th February. If any one should be obliged to go, you should give him a certificate saying "enumerated on board....."; noting the name of your ship, and signing it. He should be told to show this certificate to any one wishing to enumerate him on shore.

5. If you are leaving port before the 26th February for another port in India, you should fill up the schedules on the night of the 26th February and deliver them to the Customs or other authority, who may ask for them at the first port touched, or to the pilot, if he is still on board. If the first port touched after the 26th February is outside British India the schedules should be posted to the port officer from whom they were obtained.

6. If you are still in port on the morning of the 27th February you should deliver the schedules, duly filled up, to the officer who calls for them.

7. When you give up the schedules you will receive an enumeration pass, which you should keep till the 15th March as a proof that the persons on your vessel have been enumerated.

All the provisions of this Act relating to census officers shall apply, so far as they can be made applicable, to all persons while performing such duties under this section, and any person refusing or neglecting to perform any duty, which he is directed under this section to perform, shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 187 of the Indian Penal Code.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Simla, the 22nd October 1930.

No. F./2-XVI-R. II./1930.—The following resolution by the Secretary of State for India in Council is published for general information:—

In exercise of the powers conferred by subsection (2) of section 96-B of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State with the concurrence of the majority of votes at a Meeting of the Council of India held this 20th day of August 1930 hereby makes the following amendments in the Civil Pensions (Commutation) Rules, namely:—

(I) For Rule 6 of the said Rules the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"6. The following provisions apply to Government servants governed by Rule 3.

(1) On receipt of an application for commutation the sanctioning authority shall transmit to the applicant a copy of the Account Officer's certificate of the lump sum payable on commutation in the event of his being reported by such medical board as the sanctioning authority may prescribe to be a fit subject for commutation; and shall at the same time instruct him to appear for examination before the said board within three months from the date of its order,, or, if he has applied for commutation in advance of the date of his retirement, within three months of that date but in no case earlier than the actual date of retirement. This intimation shall constitute administrative sanction to commutation, but shall lapse if the medical examination does not take place within the period prescribed in the sanctioning order. The applicant may withdraw his application by written notice at any time before the medical examination takes place, but this option shall expire on his appearance before the medical board.

Provided that if the medical board directs that his age for the purpose of commutation shall be assumed to be greater than his actual age, the applicant may withdraw his application within two weeks from the date on which he receives intimation of the revised sum payable on commutation, or, if this sum is already stated in the sanctioning order, within two weeks from the date on which he is informed of the finding of the medical board.

If the applicant does not withdraw in writing his application within the period of two weeks prescribed above, he shall be assumed to have accepted the sum offered.

(2) Subject to the provision contained in clause (3) of this rule the commutation shall become absolute, that is, the title to receive the commuted portion of the pension shall cease and the title to receive the commuted value shall accrue, in the case of an unimpaired life on the date on which the medical board signs the medical certificate; and, in the case of an impaired life, on the date of written acceptance of the commutation, or the date on which the option of withdrawing the application expires, whichever is earlier. Payment of the commuted value shall be made as expeditiously as possible, but whatever the date of actual payment, the amount paid and the effect upon the pension shall be the same as if the commuted value were paid on the date on which commutation became absolute. If the commuted portion of the pension has been drawn after the date on which the commutation became absolute, the amount drawn shall be deducted from the amount payable in commutation.

(3) If the applicant makes any statement found to be false within his knowledge or wilfully suppresses any material fact in answer to any question, written or oral, put to him in connection with his medical examination, the Local Government may cancel the sanction at any time before payment is actually made; and such a statement or suppression may be treated as grave misconduct for the purpose of Article 351 of the Civil Service Regulations".

(II) Rule 8 of the said Rules shall be omitted.

(III) For Rule 10 of the said Rules, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"10. If the pensioner dies on or after the day following that on which commutation became absolute but before receiving the commutation value, this value shall be paid to his heirs."

(2) Subject to the retirements of this subclause as to reappointment, the local Government may, in special circumstances, which should be recorded in writing, grant an extension of service, not exceeding three months, to a Chief Engineer.

He must in all cases check the entries for lascars and other natives of India. Where the master is illiterate and unable to fill up the schedules the enumerator should fill them up for him. After collecting the schedules the enumerator will paste over the white labels [see articles (3) (ii) (d) above], or if there are no white labels in a prominent position on both sides of the forepart of the hull a red label bearing the words "CENSUS TAKEN." The enumerators will demand their schedules duly filled in and certified from the masters of vessels of class A making port between 7 p.m. on the 26th February and 10 a.m. on the 27th February (unless the vessel did not take on a pilot at the Sandheads before 12 midnight on the 26th February), and on receipt will furnish the master with an enumeration pass (port form III). If neither of these is forthcoming the enumerator must muster the persons on board and with the aid of the master and others fill in the schedules. On receiving the schedules from the master of a vessel which arrives after the 26th February the enumerator will furnish the master with an enumeration pass (port form III) and will direct him to keep it carefully till the 15th March.

(6) Submission of returns.—(a) On the 2nd March each enumerator will stitch together all the schedules for his block which have been filled in and will prepare a statement in the following form:—

He will cause this statement to be countersigned by the Superintendent of Customs, Preventive Service, or by some responsible officer selected by the Superintendent, and will take and deliver it with the schedules to the Special Census Officer for Calcutta.

(b) On the 16th March a supplementary return will be compiled by each enumerator in the same form from the schedules received by him from masters of vessels berthing after the 1st March, and after being countersigned as above will be made over with the schedules to the Special Census Officer, Calcutta.

(c) Schedules taken off by the pilots discharged at the Sandheads between 7 p.m. and midnight on the 26th February 1931 will be sent by the Commander of the Pilot Vessel as soon as possible on the 27th February to the Special Census Officer, Calcutta.

3. Other Vessels—(1) Classification of other Vessels.—The vessels with which the Deputy Commissioner, Port Police, Calcutta, will deal include (1) inland passenger and cargo steamers; (2) country boats carrying inland produce; (3) ferry steamers, passenger boats, etc., plying within the limits of the port census area; (4) fishing boats, etc.

(2) Enumerating Agency.—The enumerators nominated by the Deputy Commissioner, Port Police, will be paid.

(3) Procedure.—(a) (i) Boats laden with country produce, cargo brigs, etc., which leave the port after the 16th February, should be enumerated, and an enumeration pass (port form III) given to the person in charge, unless it is fairly certain that the destination will be reached before the 26th February. The person, in charge should be warned to preserve the pass carefully as a safeguard against double enumeration.

(ii) Fishing and other vessels which are likely to be absent from port on the night of the census should be enumerated on their leaving port at any time between the 16th and 26th February, and an enumeration pass (port form III) given to the person in charge of the vessel. If such a vessel returns before the 26th February, the pass should be taken back, the schedules destroyed, and the persons on board told that they will be enumerated on the 26th February or on the vessel's again leaving port.

(b) The enumeration of other craft will be divided into three stages:—

I.—The preliminary enumeration.—(i) The preliminary enumeration will begin on the 19th February, one week before the final enumeration.

(ii) Each enumerator will be provided with 300 schedules and 300 white labels in the following form:—

Census of India, 1931.

Circle No. Block No. Boat No.

This label shows that there has been a preliminary enumeration of this boat.

(iii) The enumerator will begin from the north end of his block, and after filling up the schedule will paste a white label on the boat in a prominent position. He will direct the master not to allow this label to be removed, and will hand over the schedule to him with instructions to keep it in good condition till the 26th February and to hand it over duly corrected on that date to the enumerator when he calls for it.

(iv) No preliminary enumeration need be made of vessels of the Indian General Navigation and Railway Company, Ltd., the Rivers Steam Navigation Company, Ltd., the Bengal Assam Steamship Company, Ltd., the Calcutta Steamship Company, Ltd., and the East Bengal River Steam Service, Ltd. These will be enumerated by employees of the company concerned under arrangements with the Managing Agents.

II.—The final enumeration.—(i) The final enumeration consists in correcting the record of the preliminary enumeration so as to make it correspond with the state of facts existing between 7 p.m. and midnight on the 26th February.

(ii) At 7 p.m. on the 26th February the enumerators will begin to visit every boat in their own blocks. They will call on the person in charge for the preliminary record corrected up to date. If that record is not forthcoming a fresh record must be prepared. For this purpose each enumerator will be supplied with 100 schedules. When the final enumeration is complete the enumerator will paste over the white label (if there is one) a red label in the following form:—

Census of India, 1931.

Circle No. Block No. Boat No.

This label shows that there has been a final enumeration of this boat.

He will then hand to the master of the vessel an enumeration pass (port form III) and direct him to keep it carefully until the 15th March in order to prevent double enumeration.

(iii) The enumerators will collect as soon as practicable after midnight on the 26th February 1931 from any craft of the five steamship companies mentioned in sub-clause (3) (a) I (iv) above the forms prepared by the steamer employee on board and should so far as possible check their accuracy.

(iv) Two enumerators in a steam launch will be specially deputed to enumerate the occupants of small river boats lying moored south of the port census area on the night of the census to a distance of one mile from the boundary.

III.—Supplementary Enumeration.—(i) On the 27th and 28th February and 1st March the enumerators will remain at their blocks and will enumerate the population of any boats which may be found in the port after the night of the 26th February and have not been enumerated.

(ii) In addition three boats will be placed across the river at the northern limit of the port census area and three boats at the southern end of the Botanical Gardens. These will stop all boats passing up or down the river and will ascertain whether they have been enumerated. If no enumeration has been made it will be made by the enumerators. In the area south of the port patrol boats will be stationed for the same purpose at convenient places. Boats whose masters can present an enumeration pass (port form III) or which have a red label pasted on them will be taken as having been enumerated. Persons on board boats coming from outside the port census area if already enumerated should each have a travellers' enumeration ticket. The operations described in this clause will cease at sundown on the 1st March.

(4) Submission of returns.—On the morning of the 2nd March the enumerators will bring to the Special Census Officer, Calcutta, their enumeration books together with a statement in the following form signed by the supervisor of their circle:—
